What is Tipo Chianti?

TIPO CHIANTI is the wine which helped to make the Italian-Swiss Colony famous for fine table wines throughout the world. It is light, delicate, delicious, and an aid to digestion. It is recommended by the most prominent physicians everywhere, on account of its purity and fine quality. Connoisseurs pronounce it perfection.

The only Red Wine served at the banquet tendered to President Roosevelt at the Palace Hotel by the citizens of San Francisco.

CHICAGO PRESS CLUB
HEARS ABOUT HAWAII

AN ADDRESS BY CHARLES L. RHODES OF HONOLULU—THE ISLANDS ABLE TO SUPPORT A MILLION PEOPLE IN COMFORT AND HAPPINESS—WHAT HAWAII WANTS FROM THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT AND WHAT HAWAII GIVES.

CHICAGO, November 2.—The Evening Post says:

During an informal non-day talk delivered before the members of the Press Club today Charles L. Rhodes, associate editor of the Hawaiian Daily Star, pictured a golden dream to those who may wish to cast their fortunes among the people of Uncle Sam's island possessions in the middle of the Pacific. Thousands of persons in the states who struggle for bare subsistence may find peace of mind, comfort and even affluence as a reward for equally spent energy in Hawaii.

"Hawaii wants American citizens," he declared, "and she welcomes them. We are a small territory and a small people and therefore cannot absorb a rush of population. We are distant from any other land, hence immigration to us should not be undertaken recklessly. Yet we want immigration and have much to offer and the Hawaiian promotion committee, representing the territory, the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' Association will furnish exact and reliable information to all who seek it."

During recent years Mr. Rhodes has acquired the right to speak of the Hawaiians as "we" and it is noticeable that his chest swells with each use of the editorial pronoun. He is an old Chicago newspaper man and a former member of the Press Club who found success and happiness in Honolulu.

After telling his hearers of some of the conditions that make Hawaii the most of the islands, for which plans have already been approved by the War and Navy Departments, and in effect too, by Congress. In this way a part of the $1,000,000 which is annually draining her resources would be turned back to benefit the islands.

Hawaii offers to the people of the remainder of the United States a climate and a country unequalled for those seeking rest and recreation. Her trade winds and sunny skies mutually complement each other and make Hawaii the ideal spot for invalids, except those suffering from tuberculosis, for whom unhappily it offers little hope.

"We have educational institutions of excellent quality in all but the highest departments, and the time is coming when Hawaii will be resorted to by hundreds as the place for the education of youth for whom the rigors of a northern climate are too severe. Outdoor athletics can be engaged in the year round, and there are no people among whom outdoor athletics are more wholesomely cultivated than among the people of the Hawaiian Islands."

"Hawaii has natural resources to support a population of 1,000,000 in comfort and happiness."

"Our soil and climate will produce all the products of the tropical and many of those of the temperate regions. Sugar is now, and is likely to remain, our staple industry, and in its production applied science in chemistry, mechanics, civil, hydraulic and mechanical engineering has been developed further than in any other sugar-producing country in the world. We have the largest sugar plantations in the world, and have achieved the highest production per acre in the world."

"Sugar is now and seemingly always will be produced most economically on large plantations under one management, because it involves a manufacturing process as well as highly developed agriculture and large irrigation plants. A modern sugar mill sufficient for a plantation in Hawaii costs approximately three-quarters of a million dollars. There are many other staple products for which large capital or large plants are not required such as sisal, banana growing and pineapple culture."

Mr. Rhodes concluded his talk with a historical sketch of the islands, covering the period of 125 years since their discovery by Captain James Cook in 1778. Members of the club asked many questions which elicited instructive replies.

PLANTERS' PLANS

In that year just before grinding crop 1904.

"As far as your committee can ascertain these last methods are not accepted as final, as can be seen by the fact that while the 'Provisional' methods of 1903 recommend that the sugar in the cane be adopted as the basis of sugar house control, out of 12 factories having a fairly complete system of control of manufacture, seven take the sugar in the extracted juice as the basis, doubtless for excellent reasons."

"For the benefit of the industry as a whole, your committee suggests as a first serious move towards uniformity in stating results, that a special committee of this Association be appointed to confer with the gentlemen composing the Hawaiian Chemists' Association to the end that a system for stating sugar house results be evolved that shall be simple, that shall not cause extra outlay of money and that shall give the essential figures; so that if necessary, comparative reports of the performance of various factories made up on the same basis could be rendered."

"Your committee begs to thank those gentlemen who answered so promptly and fully the questions sent them and hopes that in the future the same measure of interest may be taken in this vital subject."

"Respectfully submitted, J. N. S. Williams, chairman; T. Clive Davies, A. Ahrens, G. H. Fairchild, K. S. Gjerdum, Committee on Manufacture."

The papers for reading and discussion this afternoon are: Extraction of Sugar from Cane, by J. N. S. Williams and Central Condensation in Sugar Houses, by Max Lorenz.

At yesterday afternoon's session of officers were chosen as follows: F. M. Swann, president; H. P. Baldwin, vice president; W. O. Smith, secretary and treasurer; G. H. Robertson, auditor.

MAY CAUSE DEATH

thugs who left him lying on the street after despoiling him of his money.

Dr. Emerson states that he was called between 7 and 7:30 o'clock this morning. He found the sick man in a semi-conscious condition, the right side being paralyzed. There were so far as could be seen no marks of violence upon the head.

Friends who know Toepehlmann say that he was not given to excessive drinking. The police assert that liquor was smelt on the man's breath when he was taken to the police station. Several people saw Toepehlmann on the corner of King and Fort street about 11 o'clock last night, apparently waiting to take the Kalihiki car home. He was not then apparently under the influence of liquor.

High Sheriff Henry will have a careful inquiry made into the affair. The High Sheriff states that it is almost impossible for the officers to be able to determine the condition of a man who is brought to the station in an all but unconscious condition, with no marks of violence or anything of the kind, to indicate that something other than an over indulgence in liquor, might have been responsible for the condition.

SERENO BISHOP'S
OCEAN THEORY

The Rev. Dr. S. R. Bishop's ocean current theory recently promulgated is attracting much attention. In the last number of "Success," Garrett P. Serviss, the well known writer on scientific subjects, has the following:

"A great scientific mystery of the Pacific ocean has just been solved, at least theoretically. The experimental verification will come later, or perhaps the new theory will be accepted or rejected without other test than that of a thorough discussion of the facts on which it rests."

"The mystery in question relates to the origin of the immense current of cool water which sweeps southward along our Pacific coast from Alaska to Southern California, the antithesis in relative temperature and in direction of the gulf stream of the Atlantic coast, but mightier than the latter in volume, and modifying the land climates all along its course to a greater extent, possibly, than any other known ocean current. In short, this current is one of the greatest agents employed by nature in producing the famous climate of the Pacific coast. The magnificent forests of Washington and Oregon and the rich orchards and vineyards of California owe their existence largely to the influence of this vast river in the sea, which flows swiftly by the shore, tempering with its coolness the arid heats of summer, rolling in vast mantles of fog which distribute moisture like the gentlest rain, and mitigating the severity of the winter months with its equalizing influence, because, while the average temperature of the water is much below that of the adjoining land in the summer, it is considerably above it in winter."

"Nor is this all. Turning westward, after skirting the shores of California, the great current spreads out over the center of the Pacific, touching the Hawaiian Islands, where again its genial influence is beneficently felt, with the result that those islands enjoy a more uniformly agreeable and salubrious climate than any other land lying in a similar latitude."

"Now, in a general way, and without much critical examination, geographers and oceanographers have hitherto assumed that this Pacific current was an offshoot of, or a complement to, the northward-flowing gulf stream of Japan, the Kuro Siwo. This Rev. S. R. Bishop, widely known for his researches on similar subjects, disputes; and he sets forth the very interesting and surprising proposition that the great current begins near the South Pole, from which it follows that all the favored regions mentioned above owe their felicitous climes to the transmitted coolness of the illimitable ice fields which border the Antarctic continent, that coolness having been brought ten thousand miles under the sea in order to reach their shores."

MAKES CONTEST
OVER CHILDREN

KALAMA OPPOSES THE PETITION FOR REVOCATION OF HIS GUARDIANSHIP.

An answer has been filed in the Circuit Court by E. P. Kalama to the petition of Rebecca Kanahale asking for the revocation of his guardianship of Kahoopio (w) and Mahoe (w). This document goes into the much mixed relations of Kalama at considerable length. Kahoopio, he states is 13 years of age and Mahoe is six. Both are children of Hoopi, who is now dead. Hoopi according to Kalama's deposition, was his wife and the older girl Kahoopio was born in lawful wedlock and is his daughter. He denies that she is the illegitimate daughter of a man named Fernandez. He admits, however, that his wife Hoopi afterwards lived with Nalioa brother of Mrs. Kanahale and that the younger girl Mahoe is the fruit of this illicit intercourse. He declares that Kahoopio has been kept away from him by force and that he has been and is supporting Mahoe, the child of his wife by the petitioner's brother.

Kalama's further allegation is that Mrs. Kanahale has a large family of her own which she cannot properly support, is a woman of vile and ungovernable temper and is not a fit person to have charge of children. He asks therefore for a dismissal of the petition.

WHITE MEN ARE GAMBLING

CATHCART'S REASON WHY A CHINESE SHOULD NOT BE PUNISHED.

"I suppose, as a matter of fact, that you do not think your client should be punished at all even though he has pleaded guilty," remarked Judge Gear to Attorney J. W. Cathcart this morning when the latter was asking for leniency in the case of Akona, a Chinaman who had admitted selling che fo tickets.

"I certainly don't think he should," returned Cathcart "I don't think that it is right to punish Chinamen for gambling when white men are gambling all the time and nothing is done to them."

Even this appeal did not move the judge.

"I will not give him thirty days because he pleaded guilty," said his honor "but I will send him to jail for four weeks," and Akona faded away looking very happy.

GETS ONE MONTH
AFTER LONG WAIT

COSTA RICAN SENTENCED FOR AN ASSAULT ON THE HIGH SEAS.

Manuel Lucero the Costa Rican coal passer who recently pleaded guilty to having assaulted Assistant Engineer McIntosh of the S. S. Sonoma while on the high seas on July 28 last, came up before Judge Dole for sentence this morning. Attorney Thayer, assigned counsel for the defence asked for a light sentence, stating that he had advised the prisoner to enter a plea of guilty as he admitted that he had struck the engineer though he had committed the act under the provocation of having been struck first. He pointed out that the prisoner had already been in jail for four months awaiting trial for an offence which had been committed on land would have been considered trivial. Assistant U. S. Attorney Dunne pointed out the gravity of the offence as subversive to proper discipline but joined in asking that the sentence should be as light as possible and Judge Dole imposed a month's imprisonment.
